

24 hour opening trial underway

You may have seen some bleary eyed students in the Library recently. We've only had to wake up one so far because his snoring was disturbing other students! But from now until the 3rd June the Library is open around the clock.

We're monitoring usage and will keep you posted, but do let students know that if they are really struggling with a deadline, there is the possibility of making use of the service. Not that we'd want to encourage that sort of approach to work generally.

If you have any comments from students (or your own remarks/observations) please let us know.

Antifascistas

An exhibition telling the story of the men and women who joined the International Brigade to defend democracy during the Spanish Civil War opens on April 26 at Portsmouth University Library.

The display of photographs and stories chronicling the experiences of the 2,500 British and Irish volunteers who risked their lives to fight against Fascism in a foreign war will be on show in the University of Portsmouth Library until May 13th.

"You are completely free to carry out whatever research you want, so long as you come to these conclusions."

Update to IEEE Xplore

New IEEE Standards Dictionary Online

The IEEE Standards Dictionary provides a single, complete source of IEEE standards terms and definitions. Prior to this release, it was only available in IEEE Xplore as a PDF document.

The new IEEE Standards Dictionary Online is interactive, easily searchable and updated frequently and is still included in the previously mentioned subscription packages as well as a separate subscription. With this subscription, the standards terms will be integrated into the abstract page of the standard to give you easy access to the terms and definitions included in your standard of interest. You will also be able to browse or search the full collection of dictionary terms.

Complete List of Citations Added to Journal Article Abstracts

The IEEE Xplore journal article abstract currently displays a list of other IEEE documents that have cited the article. Now a list of all articles that have cited the document from any publisher participating in CrossRef's Cited-By Linking program will be included. This goes as far back as 1929. You can then link to CrossRef to find the listed article.

Addition of IEEE Index Terms

IEEE index terms will now be included on the abstract page under the "Index Terms" section for all IEEE journals and conference papers.
